

SOCIAL COMMUNITY POLICY

TUI Blue Oceanis Beach & Spa Resort is proudly a member of three very important social groups: Blue Flag, Travelife and Greek Breakfast program.

- ✓ The << Blue Flag >> is a program of environmental awareness and protection which is implemented every year, on a large scale, in more than 40 countries in Europe and other parts of the world by the Foundation for Environmental Education (FEE). It aims at making beaches better organized and safer for swimming, while at the same time protecting their natural environment, so that we may always enjoy them.
- ✓ Greek Breakfast is a program that focuses on the Greek culinary tradition, aiming primarily to highlight the richness and specificity of local products and local cuisine, bringing together hoteliers and local producers and secondly, if embraced by members to constitute a main element of the identity of the Greek hotel product and by extensions a promoting contraption of Greek tourism.
- ✓ Travelife is an internationally recognized accommodation sustainability programme. Containing a range of criteria that assess accommodation performance in the areas of human rights, labour, community engagement and environmental impacts, the programme's GTS-recognised standard was designed by tourism industry, for the tourism industry.
- ✓ We declare our commitment to donate to local charity and organization any equipment that needs replacement and be reused. We are also aware of our social responsibility and we make donations for those in need, mostly poor and establishments for orphan children.
- ✓ We provide our customers with information regarding local products, promoting and strengthening this way the local economy. Furthermore, we buy local products, which our customers enjoy during their stay.
- ✓ In the spirit of strengthening the relationship with the local community, the resort is open via the a la carte restaurant.
- ✓ We respect the history of the island, it's people, who are the real foundation of our hotel, as well the policies of the local community, which is in par with our fundamental policies.
